2005

The image features a dark, textured background with vibrant, glowing lines in shades of red and blue. These lines swirl and flow, creating a sense of motion and energy. In the upper right corner, the letters 'BIM' are written in a white, serif font. Dominating the center is the year '2005', rendered in a large, stylized, 3D font with a metallic, iridescent finish that shifts between purple, blue, and red. The overall aesthetic is high-tech and futuristic.

The BIM is an 80 page black and white book which is funded entirely by the sale of books and advertisements. The BIM is published by Jostens, Inc. Our representative to the company is John Cox.
